

A Heartfelt Thank You Note

Shown by the tributes and condolences as well as the huge presence of Wah Yan boys and students from his first school in Toronto, (The York Herbart School), at his wake on Nov. 16, Mr. Anthony Ho had truly exemplified the traits of a very outstanding teacher, vice principal and principal. I'm not saying that because I have been his very good friend for more than 60+ years. I am truly touched and honored by the love and respect shown by all who attended the wake and the Requiem Mass the following day. Here I would like to extend my sincerest thanks to all his students, those whom he taught and friends he associated with, in Hong Kong and in Toronto.

Having the good fortune of reading Mr. Ho's mind for so long, I'm confident he would agree 100% of what I say below.

Thank you for being so caring and comforting to me during my tedious fight with multiple myeloma. I had always looked forward to your visits and was always uplifted by your encouragement in my struggle against cancer.

Mr. Ho is resting peacefully in a better place now, but he is always looking after us, guiding us like a scout patrol leader. Knowing him, he would never abandon us nor forget us.

Gertrude Chan,

Toronto, Nov. 18, 2018.
